Trinidad Could Be Honeymoon Locale

By DENNIS NEEDL
LONDON (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Armstrong-Jones sailed westward through the placid waters of the English Channel today, bound for a sunshine honeymoon in the Caribbean.

To the customary "whither bound?" signal from Channel shore stations, the royal yacht Britannia carrying Princess Margaret and her commoner husband flashed back the jaunty reply of olden-day British sea dogs:

Destination Unknown
"Destination unknown — high seas."

Then the ship closed its radio to all but official messages.

The Britannia was headed for the West Indies but no port of call has been announced. Most speculation favored Trinidad, which Margaret has visited before and was warmly greeted as the "calypso princess."

Others suggested the honeymoons might swing northward and call at a U.S. Gulf port such as New Orleans or the Florida coast.

The British Admiralty refused to say.

Day of Magnificence
Behind the princess was a wedding day of never-to-be forgotten magnificence and pageantry.

It was a day of sunshine, smiles and the thundering cheers of close on two million excited Britons for

Windy and Cool
Outlook for Derby

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Skies began gradually clearing today, Kentucky Derby day, after an overnight rain totaling .29 of an inch.

The U.S. Weather Bureau predicted windy and cool weather for this afternoon, with temperatures in the 60s.

"We don't see a drop of rain by the time the Kentucky Derby starts," a Weather Bureau official said.

Hudsonian Rules Out Welcome to Visiting Russian

HUDSON, N. Y. (AP) — The mayor will have no part in welcoming a Soviet official here because of the Soviets' boast that they shot down an American plane.

Mayor John L. Kelly had planned to welcome Gennadi Gavrikov, third secretary of the Soviet Embassy in Washington, when Gavrikov arrives Thursday to speak before the Hudson Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Kelly told the chamber Friday: "In view of the news of the past 24 hours I must decline your invitation. The news reports we are now hearing are enough to turn the stomach of any red-blooded American and I personally and officially want no part of this affair."

Busy Slate For Solons In Stretch

Big Work Load Due Last Nine Weeks

By JOE HALL
WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic leaders have outlined a big load of work for the Congress in the final nine weeks of the 1960 session before the national political conventions.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) praised his colleagues highly for five days of hard work before the Senate quit Friday for the weekend.

He said that if they worked at the same pace in the coming weeks, they undoubtedly could dispose of the remaining major legislation.

Many Bottled Up
However, some of the important measure he listed, such as an immigration bill, remain bottled up in committee with little evidence so far that they are going to be cleared.

Johnson noted that the Senate since Monday had disposed of a $4,100,000,000 foreign aid bill, a 970-million-dollar space authorization measure, a 251-million-dollar depressed areas bill, the 729-million-dollar Commerce Department appropriations bill, the 557-million-dollar Interior Department appropriations measure, a government employee retirees' health bill, and a bank merger bill.

Then he listed these important bills to be acted on before adjournment:

Important Bills
A bill raising the minimum wage and extending coverage of the act. This has been under consideration by the full Labor Committee since last summer.

A medical plan for the aged. Johnson said he believed Congress would act in this field before adjournment. The issue is now before the House Ways and Means Committee; that branch must act first.

House Group Studies Deeper Hudson Plan
A proposal to deepen the Hudson River channel to 32 feet from New York to Albany at a cost of $1,880,000 is being studied by the Public Works Subcommittees of the House Appropriations Committee.

If approved funds for the project would be in the budget for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

The proposal calls for widening the channel to 600 feet from New York to Kingston and to 400 feet from Kingston to Rensselaer and Albany.

The project without the additional $1,880,000 totals $38,696,000 and $520,000 has been appropriated for the preliminary work.

The plans also call for the widening of a turning basin at Albany to be 700 feet wide, 1,200 feet long and 32 feet deep.

Business Week in Review

By JACK LEFFLER
AP Business News Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Business took a look this week at its accomplishments and shortcomings in the first four months of 1960 and found indications things are getting better.

"The economy appears to be pulling out of its weather-influenced late-winter doldrums," said the Federal Reserve Bank of New York.

Consumers Doing Part
The bank singled out consumer spending for bringing "a breath of springtime to business men."

Consumers were doing their part, all right. They were buying new cars at a spectacular clip. Merchants were ringing up sales in excess of record 1959.

Dr. Emerson P. Schmidt, research director of the United States Chamber of Commerce, predicted 1960 will be the best year in history.

"And," he said, "if we can avoid massive business mistakes and public policy errors, there is no reason why the current expansion should not go into 1961 or longer."

There were dark areas in the first four months as well as bright ones. Unemployment was on the rise, partly due to the bad weather; steel production went down after a record first quarter. (Continued on Page 5, Col. 3)

Woodstock Area Home Is Saved From Fire Loss

Alert firemen in the Woodstock district saved a handsome Swiss chalet type home on the Wittenberg-Bearsville road late Friday afternoon when a pile of wood at one side of the structure caught fire, apparently by sun shining through a glass jar.

Owner Is Abroad
The home is owned by Mrs. Walter Harand who is reported to be in Europe.

Gene Shultz, a fireman with Woodstock Company No. 2 in Wittenberg, saw smoke pouring out from the structure and sounded the alarm.

A pumper and tank truck were dispatched from Wittenberg and a pumper and emergency truck from Woodstock Company No. 1 in the village of Woodstock under the direction of Assistant Chief Merwin Doremus.

Ike's Trip Likely But Tension Zooms

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. officials learned with amazement today of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's statement that an American pilot has been captured flying a spy mission across the Soviet Union.

Dems Offer Own Bill on Aged Care

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new medical care for the aged program under the Social Security system has been introduced by 16 Democratic senators including four presidential aspirants.

Democrats hope to make a strong campaign issue out of health care for the aged. The administration has introduced its own plan, which provides voluntary insurance programs partly offset by federal-state funds.

The new Democratic proposal, introduced Friday by Sen. Pat McNamara (D-Mich.), in some ways goes beyond the bill sponsored by Rep. Aime J. Forand (D-R.I.). The Forand bill is stuck in a House committee and has been denounced by President Eisenhower.

McNamara is chairman of a Senate subcommittee on aging. He estimated the bill's cost at $1,578,000,000 a year when it takes full effect. The administration bill proposes expenditure of $1,200,000,000 a year out of general funds, rather than through increased Social Security taxes.

Joining McNamara behind the bill were Sens. Hubert H. Humphrey (Minn.), John F. Kennedy (Mass.), Wayne Morse (Ore.) and Stuart Symington (Mo.), all running for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Secretary of Welfare Arthur S. Flemming Friday completed a third day of explaining the administration plan to the House Ways and Means committee.

Against SS Idea
Afterwards he said Vice President Richard M. Nixon had actively helped work it out and opposes the Social Security idea. Democrats have attacked it as inadequate. On the other hand a conservative Republican, Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, has called it socialized medicine.

A main Republican criticism of the Forand bill's approach is that it would not cover those who are not eligible for Social Security.

Seeking to meet this objection, the McNamara bill would cover 11,300,000 over 65 on Social Security, 1,700,000 on public assistance rolls and 1,800,000 others of retired age. Most of the cost would be met through raising the Social Security tax 1/4 per cent each on employer and employee, the same as provided in the Forand bill. A 3/4 per cent tax would be levied on the subject.

Fifty families living on the perimeter of the fire were evacuated, but their homes were saved and they were permitted to return.

Gov. Wesley Powell called out the National Guard and 200 men were assigned to the fire area to prevent looting.

The loss was estimated unofficially at $500,000. A general alarm from 14 communities.

The dramatic statement by Khrushchev before the Supreme Soviet seems certain to bring a further increase in tension between Moscow and Washington.

But officials still discounted the possibility that President Eisenhower would change his plans for the summit meeting or for a June visit to the Soviet Union.

No Official Comment
State Department press officer Lincoln White had no immediate comment on the Khrushchev report. The State Department presumably wanted to get its own information direct from Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson at Moscow. Officials also clearly wanted to go over Khrushchev's account in some detail.

Eisenhower and Secretary of State Christian A. Herter are withholding final decisions on the next U.S. move in the presumptive maneuvering until they get a better picture from Moscow of the plane incident.

Await Follow-Ups
They want to see how Khrushchev follows up his statements Thursday that the plane had been shot down and today that the pilot is alive and may be tried as a spy.

Khrushchev also attacked Eisenhower for saying he might have Vice President Richard M. Nixon substitute for him in at the summit conference if the meeting lasts more than a week. The conference is scheduled to open in Paris May 16.

World Change Plans
The violence of the Premier's propaganda blast at the United States startled officials here and even provoked some congressional suggestions that the President ought to change his plans.

Eisenhower himself stimulated speculation Friday about his scheduled Soviet visit when he spoke of taking a boat as a present to Khrushchev "if" he made the trip to Moscow.

$500,000 Fire Leaves 325 Jobless in N. H.
DERRY, N.H. (AP) — An estimated 150 persons today were homeless and 325 without jobs when flames destroyed 14 tenement houses and a big shoe factory.

Most families lost all their possessions in fleeing for their lives Friday night.

The Chelmsford Shoe Co., a major industry in this southern New Hampshire town of 5,000, burned to the ground. Nobody was in the plant when the fire started.

The fire also destroyed 15 automobiles.

Fifty families living on the perimeter of the fire were evacuated, but their homes were saved and they were permitted to return.

Gov. Wesley Powell called out the National Guard and 200 men were assigned to the fire area to prevent looting.

The loss was estimated unofficially at $500,000. A general alarm from 14 communities.

Craft Not Unarmed, Is Charge

Airman Identified As Member of CIA

MOSCOW (AP)—Nikita Khrushchev disclosed today that the pilot of the American plane shot down on May Day is alive in Moscow and might be tried as a spy.

The Soviet Premier told deputies of the Supreme Soviet, the Parliament, that the pilot had confessed he was flying across the Soviet Union on a spy mission, photographing Soviet airfields and industrial enterprises.

Exposes Fabrications
Khrushchev said he had delayed announcing the capture of the pilot in order to expose "fabrications" in the official American version of the incident.

Khrushchev identified the pilot as Francis Gerry Powers, 30, and said he was a former Air Force pilot who had joined the Central Intelligence Agency in 1956.

Suggesting that a news conference might be organized to display the apparatus used for the alleged weather survey Khrushchev added: "I also thought it would be right to put the pilot on trial."

Had Pistol, French Fracas
Though the Americans had claimed the plane was unarmed, the Premier went on, the pilot had been supplied with a noiseless pistol.

Soviet money and French gold francs also were found in his possession, Khrushchev said, adding: "What were these francs for—to gain altitude?"

The Premier told the Soviet Parliament that the plane was shot down near Sevdiyovsk in the Urals while en route from an American base in Pakistan to a base in Norway.

It was intended, he said, to photograph the Ural region, Archangel and Murmansk.

Reports Suicide
Khrushchev identified the pilot as Francis Gerry Powers, 30, and said Powers had told Soviet interrogators he had been instructed not to surrender to the Soviets and had been given a poison kit in order to commit suicide if captured.

Khrushchev said he had deliberately withheld some details of the incident when he addressed the Parliament earlier this week.

He described the official U. S. explanation that a weather research plane had strayed on a peaceful mission as a fabrication.

"American official statements on the subject were complete fabrications based on the assumption that if the aircraft had been shot down, the pilot must have died," said Khrushchev.

Moscow radio broadcast his speech.

(The U. S. State Department had identified the pilot of the missing plane as Francis G. Powers, 30, of Pound, Va., a civilian test pilot for the Lockheed Aircraft Corp.)

Was at 20,000 Meters
Khrushchev said the plane was shot down from a height of 20,000 meters and added: "If they fly (Continued on Page 5, Col. 2)

Report Trotsky Killer Hiding Out in Havana

HAVANA (AP)—Jacques Mornard, the man who assassinated Russian revolutionary Leon Trotsky 20 years ago, was believed hiding from vengeance killers in Havana today following his release from a Mexican prison.

A source at Havana's International Airport said a passenger listed as Jacques Van Dendresch, carrying a Czechoslovak passport, had arrived from Mexico City aboard a plane.

A check at Havana's larger hotels failed to turn up anyone registered as Van Dendresch or Mornard.

Informed Mexican sources said Mornard will leave for Europe later and possibly go to Czechoslovakia. He was issued a Czech passport, with a Cuban visa, several months ago.

Mexico granted Mornard provisional liberty last Wednesday and ordered him out as an undesirable alien. Interior Ministry agents took him from the prison and put him aboard a plane bound for Havana.

The POWER of FAITH

by Howard Brodie

On the main floor of the General Assembly Building of the United Nations is a small Meditation Room, "dedicated to silence in the outward sense and stillness in the inner sense," where "the doors may be open to the infinite lands of thought and prayer."

In the center of the V-shaped room is a slab of iron ore, millions of years old, "a reminder of that cornerstone of endurance and faith on which all human endeavor must be based." Visitors may see it as an unadorned altar, "dedicated to the God whom man worships under many names and in many forms." The iron ore may suggest the choice between destruction and construction, for from it man has forged swords as well as ploughshares. On one wall is a painting. Overhead is a light, from which a single shaft illuminates the slab, "a symbol to many of us of how the light of the spirit gives life to matter."

Here hundreds of thousands of persons of all faiths have meditated, prayed or registered in guest books their support for world peace.

Family Day Slated At Warwick May 15

Classis of Ulster, the governing body above the local church, of the Reformed Church in America, is holding a Classis Family Day at its Synod's newly acquired church conference center at Warwick. The purpose of this family convocation Sunday, beginning at 3 p. m., is to acquaint friends and members of the local Reformed Churches with the location and facilities of Warwick Estates.

It was recently purchased by the Particular Synod of New York as a Church Conference Center for its member churches.

The program concluding at 7:30 p. m., will include guided tours of the buildings and grounds, some free time for exploration and picture taking, a brief presentation of Warwick and its meaning to the local church, a picnic supper concluding with a vespers service. This last to be conducted by the Rev. J. Dean Dykstra and the Rev. James Blane, both of whom serve on the Board of Managers for Warwick Estates.

A classical youth program is planned for all youngsters beginning through senior high. Various youth directors and ministers in the local churches will have charge of the youth program so that the entire family may attend and a well-ordered, constructive meeting may be accomplished.

In addition to the various activities now prevailing at Warwick Estates, through usage by the churches of the Synods of New York and New Jersey and the boards and agencies of the church, a series of youth conferences and Christian Family conferences are planned for the summer months.

A MOTHER'S BEAUTITUDE

Once a year we set apart a Sunday, the second in May, as a special occasion for paying tribute to noble motherhood. This custom originated with Mrs. Anna M. Jarvis of Philadelphia. It all came about this way. The Sunday school superintendent in the little church in Virginia, where her mother had lived and worked so faithfully during her lifetime, wanted to do something in her honor. He wrote to Mrs. Jarvis asking her if she would work out the plans for such a service to be held in the little church. While shaping up those plans the idea occurred to her that it might be possible to establish an annual observance of "Mother's Day" in all the churches of the land. That first Mother's Day service was held at the small church in Virginia in 1908. In 1914 the second Sunday of May was set apart officially as Mother's Day by an act of Congress and by the proclamation of the president.

Mother's Day is an alert. It is a ceremonial reminder that there is nothing automatic about the building of noble character. Good character does not, like Topsy, just happen. There may be push-button warfare (or some ghastly approximation to it) but there is no easy, undemanding way to establish in the growing young noble qualities out of which useful, high minded citizens are made. This annual observance is a day to polish up maternal eyes to see the strategic importance of what goes on in that citadel of character building which we call the home.

Mothers need a lot of understanding and sympathy. They need generously to be endowed with patience and perseverance. The work they do seems to have no stopping place. The growing family's demands pounce upon mother afresh every morning. There are always meals to get, dishes to wash, clothes to launder, rooms to tidy up. But mothers must not become so immersed in these daily demands that they lose sight of their main business: the bending of the twig of character.

One would be hard put to it to state in words all of the exalted qualifications of true motherhood. A hint of some of them is given in these lines by Lenora Zearfoss which she calls, "A Mother's Beautitude."

"Blessed is the mother who understands her child, for she shall inherit a kingdom of memories . . . Blessed is the mother who knows how to comfort, for she shall possess a child's devotion. . . Blessed is the mother who guides by the path of righteousness, for she shall be proud of her offspring. Blessed is the mother who is never shocked, for she shall receive confidences. . . Blessed is the mother who teaches respect, for she shall be respected. . . Blessed is the mother who emphasizes the good and minimizes the bad, for in like manner the child shall make evaluations. . . Blessed is the mother who treats her child as she would be treated, for her home shall be filled with happiness. . . Blessed is the mother who answers simply the startling questions, for she shall always be trusted. . . Blessed is the mother who has character strong enough to withstand the thoughtless remarks and resentments of the growing child, for again, in due time, she will be honored."

Nazarene Church Holds Series of Special Meetings

REV. GEORGE COLE

A special series of meetings are being conducted at the First Church of the Nazarene, Wiltwyck Avenue and Elmendorf Street, through Sunday, May 15, by the Rev. George O. Cole of Sebring, Ohio.

The meetings started Wednesday night and are being held at 7:30 p. m. each day except Sunday. Sunday service schedule will be Sunday school 9:45 a. m.; Morning worship, 10:45 a. m.; and evening evangelistic service 7 p. m. The Rev. Mr. Cole will be speaking at each service.

Song evangelist for the series is George Ronk, tenor, of New Paltz. The Rev. Willis R. Scott, pastor of the host church, has extended an invitation to the public to attend.

For two years, the Rev. Mr. Cole was guest speaker on a radio program, Family Altar, in Greensburg, Pa. He later was on the program, Bit of Heaven, Wheeling, W. Va. He is president of the Sebring Camp Meeting Association, one of the largest interdenominational holiness camps in Ohio. He has served churches in Ohio, Pennsylvania and Tennessee.

Collaborated

An Austrian priest named Joseph Mohr, in the village of Oberndorf, wrote "Silent Night, Holy Night" on Christmas Eve in 1818. Franz Gruber, assistant organist of his church, composed the music.

Attends Rabbis 60th Convention

RABBI RUBENSTEIN

Rabbi Jacob I. Rubenstein, spiritual leader of Congregation Ahavath Israel will be the local delegate to attend the 60th anniversary convention of the Rabbinical Assembly of America May 8 through 12 at Grossingers.

More than 600 members of the Assembly, national association of conservative rabbis, are expected to participate.

This year's sessions, according to Rabbi Seymour Cohen, spiritual leader of congregation B'nai Israel, Pittsburgh, Pa., and convention chairman, will focus upon the role of the rabbi in contemporary American society. "The 60th anniversary convention seemed an appropriate opportunity to look at the American rabbinate, its past, its present, and most important, its future," said Rabbi Cohen.

Munich to Host Catholic Parley During Summer

By HANNS NEURBOURG

MUNICH, Germany (AP)—For a brief week this summer, picturesque old Munich becomes the devotional capital of the Roman Catholic world.

The occasion is the 37th International Eucharistic Congress which expects to play host to a million Catholics, including 3,000 church leaders from around the world, between July 31 and Aug. 7. The congress, the largest such meeting ever held in Germany, is intended as a gigantic confession of faith in the era of atomic science and space satellites.

Heading the list of church dignitaries will be a papal legate, a cardinal yet to be named by Pope John XXIII.

There is speculation that the pontiff himself—who has been known to break precedents before—may decide to make an unprecedented trip to the Bavarian capital for the congress.

Vatican sources insist that no such plans exist and the archbishop of Munich, Joseph Cardinal Wendel, recently told newsmen: "The more you talk about it, the less probable it becomes."

Twenty cardinals and 192 bishops already have sent notice that they will come. The cardinals include three Americans, Spellman of New York, Cushing of Boston and Meyer of Chicago.

Munich was chosen as the congress site by the late Pope Pius XII, who once was papal nuncio here. The congresses have been held irregularly since the first gathering in Lille, France, in 1881.

Onteora Hero Is To Receive Medal At U. S. Capital

School Safety Patrol hero Alfred F. Monteleone of Shokan, who will be awarded the American Automobile Association's Gold Lifesaver Medal by Vice President Richard M. Nixon next Thursday will receive a proper send-off from his hometown on Monday at 11 a. m.

In a special ceremony at Onteora Central School, Boiceville, Town Supervisor Lester Davis of Olive, will present Alfred with a Distinguished Service Medal on behalf of the Automobile Club of New York.

Averted Tragedy

The 13-year-old hero, who attends Onteora Central High School, averted with his prompt action what could have been a serious tragedy. When the driver of a school bus carrying 38 youngsters suffered a fatal heart attack and suddenly slumped to the floor, Alfred rushed to the driver's seat and managed to bring the bus to a stop, just short of a steep, 40-foot embankment.

Attending the brief ceremony in the principal's office, will be District Principal William Deming, Administrative Assistant Watson Woodrich, and Phillip Gordon, president of the Board of Education. Alfred's family will also be present.

Also present will be Charles J. Murphy, director of traffic engineering and safety of the Automobile Club, which sponsors the school safety patrols.

Alfred and his family will leave the next day for Washington and the presentation of the Gold Lifesaver Awards, which will be held Thursday at 11:30 a. m. in Mr. Nixon's office at the Capitol.

Lou E. Holland of Kansas City, president of the AAA Foundation for Traffic Safety and past president of the AAA, will take part in the ceremony, which honors annually members of the School Safety Patrol cited for heroism on duty.

Only 82 Given

Only 82 Gold Lifesaver medals, the highest award a School Safety Patrol member can receive, have been presented since 1949, when the award was inaugurated.

Alfred will be one of five youngsters who will be honored in a tribute to the nation's more than 770,000 patrol members who protect the lives of schoolmates at street crossings. The event will serve as a prelude to the 24th Annual School Safety Patrol Parade in Washington on May 14, which will feature some 30,000 marchers from 25 states and the District of Columbia.

In New York, Governor Nelson A. Rockefeller has officially set aside the week of May 9 to 15 as School Safety Patrol Week, and special ceremonies honoring the patrols will be held throughout the state.

Chairman Named For City Mental Health Campaign

Bernard A. Feeney Jr., city chairman for the fund-raising drive of the Ulster County Association for Mental Health, announces that Monday, May 9, will be the first day on which volunteers or "Bell Ringers" will call on residents for contributions.

The response of volunteers has been heartening, Feeney said, and evidence points to a successful drive.

Mrs. Frieda Dingee, vice-president of the Association, and county drive chairman, pointed out that every street in the city of Kingston will be covered by volunteer fund-raisers. All volunteers can be identified by a white tag bearing a blue bell.

City ward chairmen of the drive are as follows: 1st Ward, Mrs. Peter Corsones, co-chairman; Mrs. John Egbert; 2nd Ward, Morton Zucker; 5th Ward, Mrs. Augustus Parker; 6th Ward, Miss Rita Brazee; 7th Ward, Mrs. Theresa Vining; 8th Ward, Miss Katherine M. Murphy; 9th Ward, Co-Chairmen, Mrs. Rita Baker and Mrs. Mary Koenig; 10th Ward, Miss Kathleen Shurter; 11th Ward, Mrs. Geraldine Nathan; 12th Ward, Bernard Feeney Jr. and 13th Ward, Mrs. James W. Glenon.

Cement Company To Purchase Shale From Township

Alpha Portland Cement Company of Cementon has made arrangements with the Town of Saugerties to purchase excess shale from the town's old shale bank at Quarryville, it was made known today.

The Town Board approved an arrangement whereby the cement company would purchase from 500 to 1,000 yards of shale at 20 cents a yard. The cement company must blast for the shale and leave the premises in presentable condition after the work is completed.

The town discontinued drawing shale from the Quarryville bank due to excess cost incurred by the need for blasting. The town has another shale bank which requires no blasting, according to William R. Brown, town superintendent of highways.

Mrs. Piratzky Elected to Head Saxton Auxiliary

Mrs. Charles Piratzky was elected president of Saxton Fire Company Auxiliary at the annual meeting held last week at the fire hall.

She succeeds Mrs. Harry Kohan who served for the past four years.

Others named were Mrs. George Saile, first vice president; Mrs. Daniel Lamourie, second vice president; Mrs. Walter Borer, secretary; Mrs. John Lasher Sr., treasurer; Mrs. William Ethridge, sergeant-at-arms; Mrs. Nelson Hoff, stewardess; Mrs. Floyd Myer, chaplain, and Mrs. Charles Rowell, publicity.

In other business the membership authorized the expenditure of $100 for a new firehouse door.

Local Church Group Slates Rummage Sale

A rummage sale will be held Friday and Saturday at the former Miller Old and New store in the Simmons Dairy building, Partition Street, Saugerties.

The sale is sponsored by the Guild for Christian Service of Saugerties Reformed Church.

Friday's sale will be held from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m.

Saturday's sale is from 9 a. m. to 6 p. m. Those wishing to donate items to the sale may leave them at the store Thursday evening or may call Mrs. Albert Smith of Ulster Avenue for items to be picked up.

$170 Paid in Fines

State police on the Thruway were operating radar again this week and 11 speeders were apprehended. They paid fines totaling $150 in Traffic Court of Saugerties Town Justice of the Peace Glenford Myers.

Two other motorists on the Thruway paid $5 each, one for parking in a no parking area, and another for insufficient lights. A third paid $10 for failure to comply.

Town Notes

The four children of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Smith of Windemere, Jerry, Henry, Sandra and Peggy, were admitted to Greene County Memorial Hospital on Wednesday for tonsilectomies.

The annual meeting of Blue Mountain Cemetery Association will be held Wednesday 8 p. m. in the lecture room of Blue Mountain Reformed Church.

Tillson Friends Church Sets Birthday Party

The public is invited to attend a general birthday party 8 p. m. tonight at Tillson Friends' Community Church.

All are welcome to participate. The Women's Guild of Christian Service, sponsors of the event, promises an evening of fun. Refreshments will be served and games played. Mrs. Walter Gibbons and Mrs. Theodore Musel are co-chairmen.

Women's Club Offers $100 Scholarship

For the second year, the Women's Club of Rosendale will present a scholarship award of $100 to a boy or girl graduating from high school.

The award will be presented to a resident of the Town of Rosendale and will be based on need, scholarship and leadership. Applications for the award will be sent to the high schools in the area and those interested and filling the requirements may contact their principals.

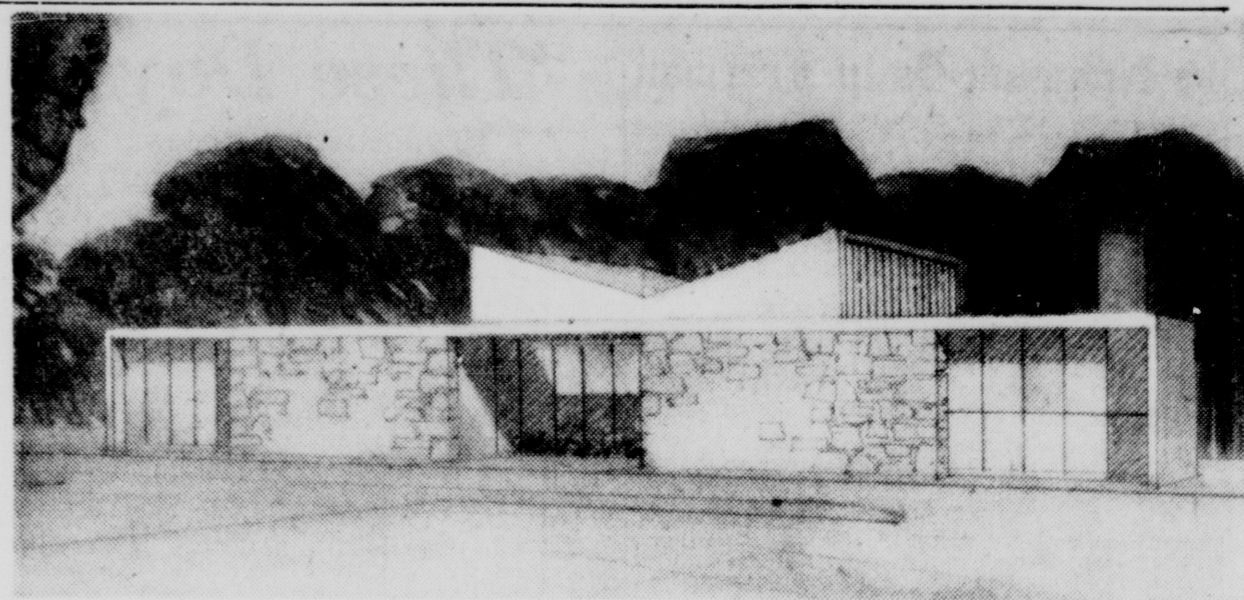

Serving on the committee this year for the Women's Club will be the Mmes. Anne Duffy, chairman; Frederick Dippel, George Moylan and Gene Van Winkle. The winner of the $100 scholarship last year was Miss Marie Oehrlein, attending Benedictine School of Nursing. She is maintaining a high scholastic average.

Proposed parish house of Flatbush Church.

Flatbush Church Plans for $40,000 Educational Hall

Construction of a $40,000 educational unit or parish house on adjoining church property was approved at a recent congregational meeting of the historic Flatbush Reformed Church, Route 32, Town of Saugerties.

The consistory's announcement said the building will be constructed to enhance the existing facilities of the church, to provide a more adequate ministry for its present membership, and to be better prepared and equipped to meet the challenge of anticipated growth in the area.

The new building will be situated between the church and stone house on the recently purchased property, formerly known as the Greymouse Farm, and more recently the property of Henry A. Fuller.

William H. van Benschoten is the architect for the structure to be one-story frame with a stone front to match the church. It will include a general assembly area 26 by 37 feet with six permanent classrooms and provisions for three temporary rooms by a subdivision of the assembly area.

Building facilities will include a modern kitchen and lavatory.

Although no timetable was announced, the consistory of the church expects that bids will be sought for construction shortly and the work should get under way this summer.

The Rev. James Blane, pastor of the church, his wife and their son, Jeffrey Alan came to Flatbush from East Orange, N. J. in 1956.

Last year the church received a bequest from the will of the late Margaret Loughran, widow of James F. Loughran of about $135,000. Loughran, Ulster County superintendent of highways for more than 40 years, and his wife frequently attended service in the Flatbush Church. The church was organized by the Classis of Ulster in 1807.

The Rev. Mr. Blane succeeded the Rev. Herbert Killinder who retired some years ago from Trinity Methodist Church, Kingston after 40 years in the ministry. He served six additional years at Flatbush until the Rev. Mr. Blane was called to the pulpit.

Members of the consistory include Hubert Brink, Edmund Osterhoudt, Robert and Lewis Swart, Clifford Davis, Gordon Finley, Richard Pettengill and Gerald Proudfoot.

A DAY FOR MOTHER
Mother's Day has been a solid success ever since its inception back in 1907, even though too many mothers spend this particular Sunday busying themselves in the kitchen rather than being fussed over by their offsprings. That Mother's Day is so generally observed is not surprising, for Mother is the hub around which the family revolves. She is solely missed when gone even for a day—or a meal. She is sentiment, faith, sympathy and understanding.
To forget Mother on her particular Sunday is to suffer tortures of remorse. To remember her, with love and consideration as well as gifts, is to be richly rewarded. Every son or daughter should know that mothers deserve more than one day of honor and appreciation. But there is always the hope that, through the designation of the second Sunday in May as Mother's Day, the spirit of the occasion will spread over the rest of the year.

NO GREEN THUMB
The married man who lacks a green thumb is less a free agent than other married men in the spring. Circumstances force him to devote energy and ingenuity to the evasion of gardening. This is not easy, since often the husband is a luckless soul whose wife attaches great importance to flower beds and such—and to his giving them skilled attention.
A fellow who boasts of his expertness at avoiding horticulture and all the backache it represents tells us that stupidity is the key to success. He cannot distinguish a flower from a weed, he declares, and has been careful never to learn this distinction which the gardener considers so vital. After he once made a shambles of a petunia bed, his wife never again asked him to pull a weed.
When they are in bloom, he confesses, he can identify the rose, pansy and hollyhock.
But it was not until after five years of indoctrination by his wife that he learned that scabiosa was not a skin disease, and lamb's-quarters not a roast.
When gardeners get together, our friend admits, he occasionally feels shame because of his ignorance. But he figures the rewards outweigh the embarrassment.
Congress may have been somewhat aimless but now it has settled down to the ses-sion's major purpose—helping win the 1960 election.

A NEW IDEA
An interesting idea popped up in the appliance field. Some of the serious thinkers are considering leasing household machinery rather than selling it.
There are double advantages. The industry would have a guaranteed market to iron out fluctuations. The customer would be rid of the servicing woes which have become an increasing problem.
This is a subject which will be debated for a good while. There are some who say that a good many Americans today never own anything, that they are, in effect, paying a "use fee" when they buy a car on installments and then trade it in once the installments are paid up.
Perhaps we should be realistic and call it
"rental." Intriguing thought.

JOHNSON'S WILLING
Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, who has kept his nose pretty much to the grindstone in his job as majority leader, acknowledged the other day that he would accept the Democratic presidential nomination if it were offered to him. These tidings have little power to astonish. Of course he would accept the nomination—as what true red-blooded Democrat would not.
What Johnson said was this: "I have served my country in every capacity in which I have been asked to serve. I would

JOHNSON AND KENNEDY
As the chips fall at this stage of the election campaign, it seems as though Senator Lyndon Johnson and Senator John Kennedy will come into the Democratic convention with an equal number of delegates—about 500 each. It is necessary to have 761 delegates to be nominated. No one will be nominated on the first ballot.
The other three candidates, Hubert Humphrey, Stuart Symington and Adlai Stevenson, are running as possible compromise candidates. That is, if the convention is deadlocked between Johnson and Kennedy, the great men of the Democratic Party will meet in the proverbial smoke-filled room and will choose a candidate from among those who are now running so ardently or someone else who will be surprised that anyone thought of him. Let it not be whispered too loud—but there are some Democrats who like Harry Truman's style and who might turn to the old curmudgeon for another round. The 22nd Amendment does not forbid that.

It is an interesting political phenomenon that John Kennedy has been working at the job of popularizing himself as a candidate since 1956, while Lyndon Johnson has been using the quiet strategy of organizing the professionals in his support, depending upon his extraordinary work in the Senate to win popularity among the people. These variant methods have produced about the same result, 500 or so delegates. If Kennedy or Johnson can build this up to 761 delegates, sure and in the pocket, and before the convention, there can be a nomination on the first ballot;
otherwise, it will be a battle which is likely.
This makes the uncommitted delegates so important. The A.D.A. could support Kennedy, Humphrey and Symington. They could perhaps combine the Kennedy and Humphrey delegations but that is not the way it is likely to go. If Kennedy is not nominated by the third ballot, men like Harry Truman, Sam Rayburn, Carmine De-Sapio, David Lawrence, Jacob Arvey, Pat Brown, and two or three others will gather together to decide. Harry Truman will undoubtedly have a prevailing voice at such a meeting.
The test of availability, in the Democratic Party, will be very practical. First of all, the Democratic Party cannot lose the Solid South which gives that party a valuable nest egg of votes. Major population changes will not affect the outcome in 1960, the apportionment of Electoral votes being based on the 1950 census; therefore the enormous shift of population which has taken place since 1950 will show up, for the first time, in the 1964 Presidential Election. However, California used to be a Republican state and is no longer. Inroads by the Democrats have been made in other Western states which used to be Republican.

The Southern states are conservative as compared with the Northern big cities. The Western states are ideologically uncertain, basing themselves on personalities rather than on party practices and principles. New England, which used to be solidly Republican, is no more. From Connecticut to Maine, New England has astonishingly been electing Democrats. New England is no longer WASP-ish, that is, white, Anglo-Saxon, Protestant. Rhode Island is an example of this change: a small state with two of the historically best known cities in the country, Providence and Newport, it started as the center of Baptism in the United States. It now has a large population of former Italians, French-Canadians, and Portuguese. This population is Roman Catholic and Democratic.
Politicians do not ignore such realistic factors.
They cannot afford to. A Vanderbilt was once
Governor of Rhode Island; so was a Pastore.
Equally true, a Saltonstall is a Senator from Massachusetts; so is Kennedy. Plymouth Rock is giving way to the Irish Famine, just as in Connecticut the Yankee is being replaced by almost every nationality on Earth and the Governor is Abraham Ribicoff.
The Democrats will have to do their balancing upon realistic facts such as these. It is not so much a split party as a catch-all party. It contains all the elements of American life and it cannot project a candidate who would totally be rejected by any one large element in the amalgam that calls itself Democracy—an amalgam that must include Eleanor Roosevelt and Carmine De-Sapio, Sam Rayburn and Wayne Morse, Lyndon Johnson and John Kennedy. No similar situation exists in the Republican Party.

The Mature Parent
Broader Outlook Needed
On Problems of Children
By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE
Rose's father was dead, her mother hospitalized. Welfare authorities arranged a "home situation" with her married sister.
The sister's husband insisted on annoying his 12-year-old sister-in-law with his attentions.
"Conferring again, the welfare board and the sister agreed on another "home situation"—in the city's shelter for dependent and neglected children.
However, after being transferred to the shelter, Rose gave evidence of defiance that did not fit the amenable character required to qualify for care as a dependent and neglected child.
She had, unfortunately, become so attached to a puppet made in the shape of a baby which belonged to the shelter's craft counselor that she stole it. When forced to return it, she ran away from the shelter. As a truant, she was sent to a reformatory as a delinquent child.
So far as I know she still is there.
The speech I liked best at the recent White House Conference on Children and Youth was made by Dr. John A. Rose, director of the Philadelphia Child Guidance Clinic.
He warned that the population explosion had increased emotional disturbances in children to the point of epidemic and attacked "outmoded facilities that now lump all children's problems under categories like dependent and neglected, delinquent, etc."
I support his attack.
However, we cannot lay the fault for our antiquated management of children's problems at the door of our welfare authorities.
We cannot, for example, blame welfare authorities for pinning a "delinquent" tag on Rose.
They had to.
In reformatories children receive a semblance of psychiatric treatment they do not receive when they are labeled dependent and neglected. The welfare authorities got this treatment for her in the only way open to them.
However, it does seem rather a pity that we cannot find methods other than reformatory commitment to help a child for whom a puppet had become a source of comfort.

not shirk my responsibility." There is nothing in the least obscure about this. Johnson shares with several colleagues a yen to be president. This was clearly a way of saying that he is in the running.
Actually, Johnson would be in the running whether or not he had said what he did say. He has a pocketful of Southern delegates. No matter what happens, he is going to have a powerful voice in the convention proceedings. If possible, he is going to make that voice shout the name of Johnson louder than any other. His statement of willingness merely makes that a bit more definite.

WASHINGTON (NEA)—A letter returned to Sen. Karl Mundt (R-S.D.) had this notation on the envelope:
"Deceased—Left No Forwarding Address."

STROLLING DOWN the corridor of a government building,
Rep. Jim Wright (D-Tex.) did a fast double-take when he saw a sign on a door which read:
"4156 General Services Administration
Region 3, Public Buildings

Utility Room, Custodial"
"What does all that mean?"
Wright asked a passer-by.
The man answered,
"Broom closet."

PUN OF THE WEEK popped out at a dinner tossed by the Cooperative Food Distributors of America when the winner of a new automobile was announced.
He turned out to be Gordon Ris-sler, mayor of Greeley, Colo. Sitting next to him was Colorado Republican Sen. Gordon Allott.
When Rissler was asked if he attributed his good fortune to anything special, he cracked:
"Luck. I had Allott at my table."

ONE OF THE MOST interesting things about visiting King Mahendra of Nepal is his clothes.
He wears a long tunic, jodhpurs (riding breeches) and an unbuttoned double-breasted coat.
The tunic is longer than the coat and caused some Washingtonians to think that the king had forgotten to tuck in his shirttail.
But the best clothes commentary came from a tourist. Upon noticing the king's jodhpurs, the tourist exclaimed:
"Dig those crazy leotards."

IN ADDITION to being su-

Three forest fires were reported in the western end of the Rondout Valley.

Mahendra is also regarded as a god. An example of the awe in which he is held took place at a National Press Club luncheon during the question and answer session.
After explaining the first question to the king and receiving his whispered answer, the Nepalese translator announced:
"Here is how His Majesty has COMMANDED me to answer the question."

LIKE MANY Republican congressmen, Rep. Bill Ayres of Ohio has an elephant paper-weight on his desk. This particular elephant, however, doesn't have tusks.
They were broken off recently when the statuette was accidentally dropped by Rep. John Dent (D-Pa.).
What bothers Ayres most about the accident is that Dent kept one of the tusks and displays it at parties as "the trophy
I brought back from my last hunting expedition into Republican territory."

NOW YOU CAN TELL the politics of a Washington hostess by her pitholders. Some of the gals are using blue and white holders that are stitched with this slogan:
"Keep Everything Cooking With Nixon."

BABSON on BUSINESS

By Roger W. Babson
BABSON DISCUSSES HAWAII
BABSON PARK, Mass., May 5—
After a long wait of about 60 years, the Hawaiian Islands finally won Statehood in 1959. I have had more than a passing interest in this event for several reasons. First, missionaries from New England and their descendants were leaders in the development of the islands. Second, my seafaring ancestors stopped at Hawaii on their trips to Asia. Finally on these trans-Pacific runs my great uncles gained an early insight into the enterprising characteristics of these Orientals and told me "bedtime" stories about them.
Lessons for Democracy
On my own visits to the Orient,
I have stopped in Hawaii. One thing which impressed me was the peaceful integration of the many different races. Political leaders throughout the world would do well to study the orderly manner in which Hawaii has absorbed its varying racial groups without legislation or violence.
In view of the decline in American prestige throughout the world, it might be wise to study Hawaii's marvelous social, economic, and political progress. This demonstrates what can be accomplished under a democratic form of government, if patience is utilized.
The Hawaiian Economy
Hawaii has a per-capita income rate which is about equal to the U.S. average. However, since Hawaii imports a considerable proportion of its consumption requirements, an inflow of outside funds is vital to the survival and growth of its business. The primary sources of funds are federal government spending, exports of sugar and pineapple, and tourist trade.
The mushrooming tourist business now directly accounts for $100 million a year, and in addition attracts millions of dollars from mainland interest for hotels, apartments,
and other developments.
Because of Hawaii's strategic military position, federal government payrolls contribute 27 per cent to personal incomes. Employment in whole sale and retail lines adds another 11 per cent. Incomes from rentals account for about 10 per cent of total earnings. Manufacturing and state government payrolls each contribute 7 per cent.

Hawaiian Investments Investment opportunities are rather limited. However, the "Big Five" blue-chip companies
—Alexander & Baldwin, American Factors, C. Brewer & Company, Castle & Cooke, and Theo.
H. Davies & Company—participate in virtually all phases of the Hawaiian economy.
Utility stocks, such as Hawaiian Electric, Hawaiian Telephone, and Honolulu Gas, have done well. The two leading banks —Bishop National and Bank of Hawaii—also have had substantial growth.
Hawaiian Real Estate
For many years the island of Oahu has been enjoying a building and real estate boom. Property values have been steadily bid up by the influx of population from the "outside" islands, by the increase in "mainland settlers," and even by some of the servicemen stationed in Hawaii. Superimposed upon this is the upsurge in tourist trade.
On the outside islands, where the population is sparse, there is plenty of land available. Hence, with Oahu allegedly becoming too commercialized, it may be that the maximum stimulus to realty values will accrue to the benefit of the islands of Hawaii, Maui, and Kauai. There the placid atmosphere and natural beauties remain virtually untouched, while parts of Honolulu are becoming a "Coney Island."

Other Participants in Hawaiian Growth
I am not now in favor of direct investments in our Fiftieth State, but the possibility of certain indirect investments might be considered. Airlines such as United, Pan American, and Northwest serve the islands. The Sheraton and Kaiser interests own hotels there, and Hilton may soon enter the race. Certain merchandising companies, such as Sears Roebuck, maintain profitable outlets in Hawaii.
Stocks of the sugar and pineapple companies which have large land holdings, particularly on Oahu, naturally have been receiving considerable investor speculative interest. But this may prove to be an unwise choice for investment at this time.

homes and businesses destroyed or damaged.

At Wilburton, Okla., where 11 persons were killed and 104 injured by Thursday night's twister, Gov. J. Howard Edmondson said, "I will declare it a major disaster area."

82 Homes Destroyed

A check of the community of 1,900 showed 82 homes destroyed, 34 heavily damaged, 22 businesses destroyed and two churches demolished.

Wide areas of the Midwest and South braced for the worst Friday during repeated tornado warnings, but damage was mercifully lighter.

At Lexie, in southwest Mississippi, a twister destroyed one house, lifted 12 others from their foundations and damaged 50 more. Nearby, homes were damaged in the areas of Poplarville, Dexter and Sandy Hook.

In west-central Illinois and in Missouri's bootheel, funnel clouds touched ground, but damage was light.

Funnels also were sighted near Osprey, Ark., and in Tennessee about 25 miles northeast of Memphis.

Rains Pelt New Orleans

Heavy rains and gale-force winds struck scattered areas Friday and today.

New Orleans was drenched with 2.35 inches of rain. Baton Rouge got 2 inches, Goshen, Ind., 1.30 inches, and Lafayette, La., which reported wind gusts over 80 m.p.h., 1.04 inches.

Two inches of rain also fell at Murraysville, Ill., 1 1/2 at Rockford, Ill., and hail pelted central Illinois.

In Wisconsin, snow mixed with rain fell today as a cold front extended southwestward from the Great Lakes through the Eastern Plains well into Texas, dropping temperatures as much as 25 degrees from the previous 24-hour readings.

village company said the fire wood, consisting of some dry logs about two or three feet long were piled alongside the garage, which is connected to the main house.

Explains Fire Start

A gallon jar was located next to the wood. Hot sun apparently penetrated the neck of the bottle and was magnified, reaching an intensity sufficient to ignite the wood, he explained.

Flames were pouring up the side of the garage and eaves and dense smoke filled the upper story of the home when volunteers reached the scene. The flames were soon brought under control.

Wolven said they cut a hole in the corner of the garage in order to get water to the seat of the flames. There was no water or fire damage to the interior of the home, although some smoke damage was reported.

House Is Probed

Firemen donned Scott Air-Paks and smoke masks to enter the house in a search for possible sources of fire inside the structure.

Wolven said a total of 2,600 gallons of water were at the scene, although only a small portion of this supply was needed to quench the fire.

The emergency truck, the last piece of fire equipment to leave the scene, returned to station at 7:30 p. m. The fire was discovered at 5:10 p. m.

Busy State . . .

The House committee has approved a 9 per cent boost; the Senate group is still conducting hearings.

A farm bill, Johnson noted the Senate Agriculture Committee had approved a wheat bill, and said perhaps a more comprehensive measure covering many crops might come from the House.

A housing bill, The House has passed a one-billion-dollar measure; the Senate Housing subcommittee opens hearings on it Monday.

A social security bill, Now before Ways and Means. The House must act first.

An unemployment compensation bill, Legislation to broaden coverage and set federal standards is being introduced, but there is no indication the committees will act on it this year.

Funds For Others

To take care of persons not under Social Security, the McNamara bill would provide 370 million dollars a year from general funds.

The bill would provide 90 days of hospital care a year, or 180 days in a nursing home, or 240 days of supervised care at home, plus diagnostic outpatient service including laboratory tests and X-rays, and part of the cost of drugs.

In the hospitalization and drug provisions, it goes beyond the Forand bill. But it does not provide surgical expenses as does the Forand bill.

Another Would Prolong Job

Demands Were ManyHowell Halt Rainmaking Attempts

By CHARLES R. DOUGLAS (Freeman Staff Writer)

Editor's Note —

This is the 15th in a series of articles on the 1950 attempt of Dr. Wallace E. Howell, Harvard climatologist, to insure New York City, by cloud-seeding, of a safe supply of water after drought drained its reservoirs.

A New York report July 20 flaunted defiance in the midst of growing protest and demands from a variety of sources that the rainmaker quit the region.

It was indicated that Dr. Howell could be kept on the job for at least six months from that date and it was then noted for the first time in his many weeks of rainmaking attempts, that no full report had been given.

No Report Made

New York's Water Commissioner Stephen J. Carney said he would recommend that the scientist stay on the job for at least a half year to give him more time in which to "establish whether he could make rain," and Edward J. Clark, chief engineer of the city's water department, revealed that a report had not been made.

Dr. Howell's contract with the city was due to expire Aug. 20. He had been operating under a $50,000 appropriation.

Early July reports emphasized that it had been raining enough in the area to dampen down the entire East for the balance of the summer, and the big howl (not Howell) was for a prolonged spell of sunshine.

A plan to dam the lower Hudson River and thereby create a new reservoir for New York was outlined during a hearing on the proposed Cannonsville water works project, at Delhi, Delaware County, was reported turned down by city officials late in July.

It had been proposed by Lawrence T. Beck, a trustee for the Citizens' Budget Committee, a private citizens' organization.

Beck felt that his plan, which called for a road to carry the New York State Thruway over the dike, was more feasible than that for the Cannonsville project.

Four Points Cited

New York engineers in a report to Mayor William O'Dwyer, however, felt that it was not the plan for them because of these four points:

1. Water was not suitable for drinking, except in instances of dire necessity.
2. Other cities along the Hudson opposed the plan.
3. The project would cost $200,000,000 as compared to the estimated $140,000 for the Cannonsville project.
4. The New York Central Railroad claimed the project would result in extensive damage to its tracks.

Reports and public reaction indicated that July was unusually wet, but a reported 2.76 inches of rain for the month was said to be 25 per cent below the 15-year average for the area.

Total rainfall up to Aug. 1, however, reported at 24.45 inches for the year, to date, was five per cent above average.

July it was noted, had both the hottest and coldest days of the summer to date. After hitting a cool 52 on July 21, the mercury hit a high of 97 as the month ended. Nobody appeared to suspect that Dr. Howell had anything to do with those conditions, but the area was still conscious of the fact that he was around. Late in July the Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association held its annual parade, in Kingston and marching in it were two men dressed as clowns.

The depicted themselves as rainmakers and carried umbrellas to advertise their mimicry.

Business Week

and the stock market skidded.

Car Sales Soar

Automakers lent most of the glitter to the economic picture this week. They reported selling 578,600 new passenger cars in April, the biggest monthly total since September 1955. The figure for April 1959 was 563,900.

Production for the first third of the year was 2,587,829 cars, compared with 2,208,818 last year.

Inspired by April's sales surge, the industry stepped up production this week to 143,000 cars from 135,654 last week.

Mother's Day promotions attracted buyers to the stores and propelled retail trade up 4 to 8 per cent over the corresponding week a year ago.

Steel Output Slips

Steel production slipped this week to an estimated 74.8 per cent of capacity from last week's 77.6.

The rate of new orders for steel continued well below shipments, indicating the industry's operating rate will decline sharply in the second quarter and through most of the third.

Stock sales on the New York Stock Exchange amounted to 13,955,505 shares compared with 14,872,950 the previous week and 18,993,800 a year ago.

Foreign trade received a lot of attention in the United States World Trade Fair opened in New York City with sixty countries displaying their products in an effort to attract more business.

Some American businessmen raised protests against foreign competition which they charged was undercutting them because of low wages. They also complained against their goods.

The Commerce Department reported progress in the balance of trade situation. It said exports are making the best showing in two years and increased at the rate of three billion dollars a year in the first quarter. Imports are still running high but have leveled off in recent months.

Business in Brief

Briefly around the business scene: Avco Corp. has developed a jet engine the size of a milk bottle to propel satellites in space. Supermarket sales in 1959 increased 10 per cent over 1958. Tidewater Oil Co. will spend 100 million dollars on new plants and equipment this year. . . Consumers bought 408 million dollars worth of goods on credit in March.

The AFL-CIO is considering promoting investment of 40 billion dollars of workers' health and welfare funds in home mortgages.

Two Yanks Lost In Desert Safe

HEIDELBERG, Germany (AP) —The U.S. Army announced today two American soldiers missing in the Libyan Desert since last Saturday have been found alive and in good condition.

The two were part of a 19-man Army mortar team flown to North Africa from Germany to seek the remains of four crewmen still missing from an American bomber which crashed in the desert in 1943.

The two were lost in a blinding sandstorm. They were found today and flown by helicopter to search headquarters, which the Army and U.S. Air Force had set up in the desert.

The Army identified the two as Sgt. I.C. Jarvis M. Wheeler, 32, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Wheeler of Livingston, Tex., and Pfc. Ronald Bingham, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Bingham of Albany, Calif. Wheeler is a topographer and Bingham a truck driver.

Tickets Ready For Protestant Men's Breakfast

Sixteen participating churches of the Kingston Area Council of Churches this week received their quotas of tickets for the annual Protestant Men's breakfast which will follow the communion service to be held at the Old Dutch Church, 7 a. m., Sunday, June 5.

Frederick H. Stang, Kingston attorney, civic leader and well-known churchman, who served two terms as mayor of the city, will be the speaker at the breakfast. He has chosen the subject "Just for Today."

William Hinckley, 33 Linderman Avenue, ticket chairman for the annual event, announced that tickets would be available this Sunday, at all participating churches.

Ticket chairmen for each of the churches are as follows:

St. James Methodist, William Hinckley; Clinton Avenue Methodist, William Ballard; Trinity Methodist, the Rev. Ralph Hughes; Fair Street Reformed, Fred Hoffman; Old Dutch Church, Fred Suppice; Ponckewick Congregational, Marc Colavechio; First Presbyterian, E. Schoen; Reformed Church of the Comforter, E. Tennyson; First Baptist, Billy Smallwood; Glenford Methodist, Arthur Gray; Redeemer Lutheran, William Keyser; Trinity Lutheran, William Slover; Port Ewen Reformed, Floyd Ellsworth; Hurley Reformed, James Woodard; Roundout Presbyterian and Baptist, John McCullough; Rosendale Reformed, H. West; Port Ewen Methodist, the Rev. Carl C. Caskey.

The annual religious service and breakfast, usually held during the Lenten season, was scheduled for the first Sunday in June, in order to permit greater participation by member churches of the council and to avoid conflict with early morning services conducted by many of the area churches during the Lenten period. The communion and breakfast is being arranged by the Life and Work Committee of the Council.

Foreign Competition Helps To Hold Prices in Check

By FAYE HENLE

Have you seen the Ford ad proclaiming that a certain model now sells for $127 less than the comparable '59 car did?

Why the across-the-board cuts of $1 or more on medium priced shoes by International Shoe Corp. and others?

You've read that the average level of wholesale prices has been practically stable for the past two years.

You're aware of the dip in interest rates. . . I've heard of price concessions on older homes. I've even scooped up what I consider a bargain at a local department store.

Yet as a family we are spending as much to shelter, feed and clothe us as we did last spring and paying even more services. Is something wrong with my budget? Are prices coming down? Has inflation been halted? What is the story?

I fired these questions at a colleague whose beat is commodity prices, whose assignment it is to spot changes in prices and alert business and the consumer to those changes.

"I've been watching for a price break," he told me. Then: "Tell you what, I'll make a deal with you. I'll alert you, you alert me, if either of us really spots a price break-through on the downside."

With that the commodity expert signed off. "What's with inflation?" I prodded William J. Carson, executive director of the National Bureau of Economic Research. "Do Geoffrey Moore's leading indicators, those bellweathers of economic climate, have a new story to tell?"

Patiently Dr. Carson listened. He's the man that sits atop all the economic studies conducted by the bureau. He broke into a smile, suggested:

"Let's ask Mr. Moore." The leading indicators measure business activities and by their behavior have foretold changes in the economic climate. Moore assured me that, as of

Columbia Girl Is Still Missing

A 16-year-old Mellenville, Columbia County, girl, who disappeared from her home April 14, was still missing today despite an intensive search by police authorities.

Claverack state police said that Grace Schumann, an Ockawic Central School cheerleader and honor student, apparently left home as the result of a quarrel with her family over religion.

Until early this year the girl, described as a pretty blonde about five feet six inches tall, was a devout member of Sacred Heart Roman Catholic Church in Philmont near Mellenville.

The girl became interested in Jehovah's Witnesses shortly after her 16th birthday Feb. 5, announcing that she would espouse that creed. There were family discussions and violent quarrels. Grace would sneak out of the house to go to meetings of the sect.

She was reportedly baptized into her new faith March 13 and a month later ran away from home.

Claverack state police have a warrant for her arrest as a wayward child. Her parents offer $100 reward for her safe return.

Plan Historic Display For Holstein Parley

Holstein breeders from coast to coast are rummaging their attics for mementoes of 19th century dairying.

The cream of their findings will be displayed at the Diamond Jubilee Convention of The Holstein-Friesian Association of America at Syracuse May 30-June 2.

In addition to early model milking machines and cream separators, the exhibit will feature several documents rich in Holstein lore.

This collection centers around minutes of the meeting at which the association was formed in 1885.

Also expected to attract considerable attention from the more than 2,000 Holstein breeders who will attend the convention is a photographic record of grand champion animals over the years.

Compiled by H. W. Norton Jr., retired executive secretary of the Holstein organization, the collection dates back to the first National Dairy Show in 1906.

Previously yearly series of war service scholarships were enacted by the Legislature which provided up to $350 a year to veterans awarded a scholarship for tuition and fees for a maximum of 4 years' for full or part-time study on the graduate or undergraduate levels in any recognized college or eligible school located in New York State. During the 1960 Legislative Session a bill introduced in the State Assembly, Assembly Int. 384, Print 384, which proposed to establish a new series of war service scholarships, was passed by the Assembly and sent to the State Senate. This bill was referred to the Senate Education Committee but did not progress any further before the close of the recent Legislative Session.

Vocational Counseling — Veterans who are undecided or uncertain about their educational, professional or vocational goals in life, will find the facilities of the Vocational Testing Center of immeasurable value in attempting to adjust themselves. Interested persons may obtain further information about the Vocational Testing Center and appointments for preliminary interview, by contacting the New York State Division of Veterans Affairs Vocational Testing Center, Room 2705, 270 Broadway, New York 7, New York. All appointments at the Vocational Testing Center, are for the convenience of the persons being tested.

Insurance — A GI term policy may lapse if the premiums remain unpaid when they become due. It will also expire at the end of the term period for which it was written. Under present law, it cannot be taken up again if it expires. On the other hand, a permanent GI policy may lapse due to non-payment of premiums but it does not expire. Before a lapsed policy provides any insurance protection it must be reinstated. Reinstatement is made by meeting health requirements and paying the required premiums. In the case of lapsed term insurance, the reinstatement must take place before the term period ends.

LEGISLATION — A peace-time GI bill for veterans who entered service after January 31, 1955, passed the Senate and is now in the U. S. House of Representatives. Hearings have been conducted this session on this measure in the House Committee on Veterans Affairs. S. 1138, the Senate approved measure, is the legislation around which hearings have resolved.

The U. S. Senate Committee on Labor and Welfare, Veterans Affairs Sub-committee, has scheduled hearings this month on proposed legislation which would provide education and special training for children of servicemen who died in service since the end of the Korean emergency.

tee of $4,000 on loans involving real estate and $2,000 on loans not involving real estate. These rules apply to both World War II and Korean GI Bills.

TAX EXEMPTION — Veterans who require proof of the amount of readjustment allowance (World War II, 52-20 club) they received in connection with claims for real property tax exemption under the laws of New York State may write to the General Service Administration, Federal Records Center, 641 Washington Street, New York 14, N. Y. This office will also help prepare letters for veterans to obtain this information. Any correspondence in connection with readjustment allowance should contain the veteran's name, address, service number, social security number, year in which readjustment allowance was received and the location of the office through which application for readjustment allowance was made.

Questions about the rights and benefits of veterans, servicemen or their dependents may be submitted for individual attention to the NYS Division of Veterans Affairs and the Ulster County Veterans Agency at 32 Main Street, Kingston.

Color Will Make Small Room Look Very Much Larger

There's magic in color.

Did you know that color can cool your home in the summer? Are you aware if man's vision reduced all objects to a uniform neutral gray, you would see only objects and distances? Yet, husband and wife in any home have the means, with their taste, of selecting new colors to replace old and win the acclaim of friends and acquaintances.

The Construction Research Bureau, national clearing house for building information, reports that pastel greens, blues and grays can make a small room appear large, that certain colors calm your ulcers, and that light green can cut down on suicides.

"Oliva moss green rooms have been found to help people with their ulcers," the Bureau reported. "When Blackfriars Bridge in London, historically noted for its suicides, was repainted from black to light green, the number of jumpers dropped abruptly."

Production Rises

The Bureau related that production in many factories had been upped by changing wall colors from orange to blue-green in summertime. The result was that workers complained less about the heat.

As for homes, the CRB said that today the top-rated interior decorators unanimously agree that background colors should be kept uniform if the homemaker wants a room to appear larger. Then there are the millions of people who want cool comfort in the home during the hot summer.

"Year-round comfort can be assured by using floor covering patterns that offer a cool hue for summer, yet simulate texture at the same time, such as woven tones vinyl asbestos Kentile. This material has a broadloom look without the dusty warmth unavoidable in carpeting."

Some of the coolest effects are achieved with resilient floor coverings in pastel shades like gulf stream green, shannon green, Caribbean blue, ocean aqua and fresco white.

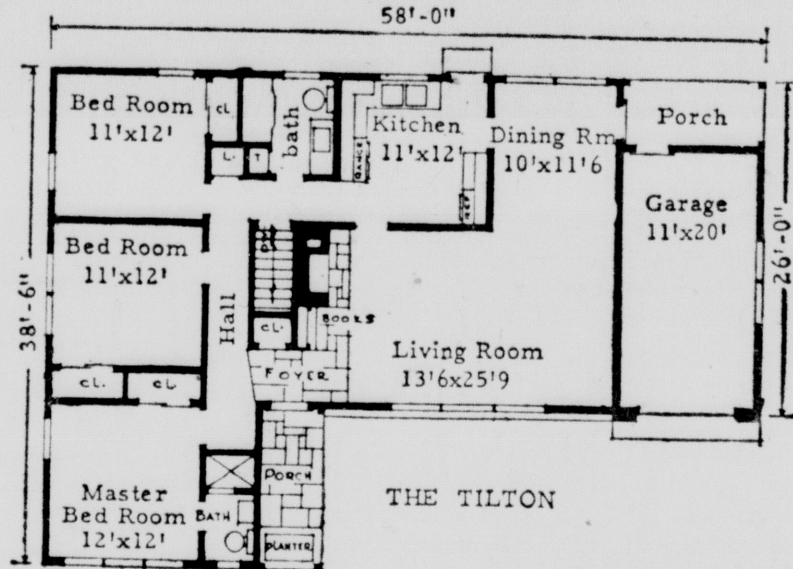

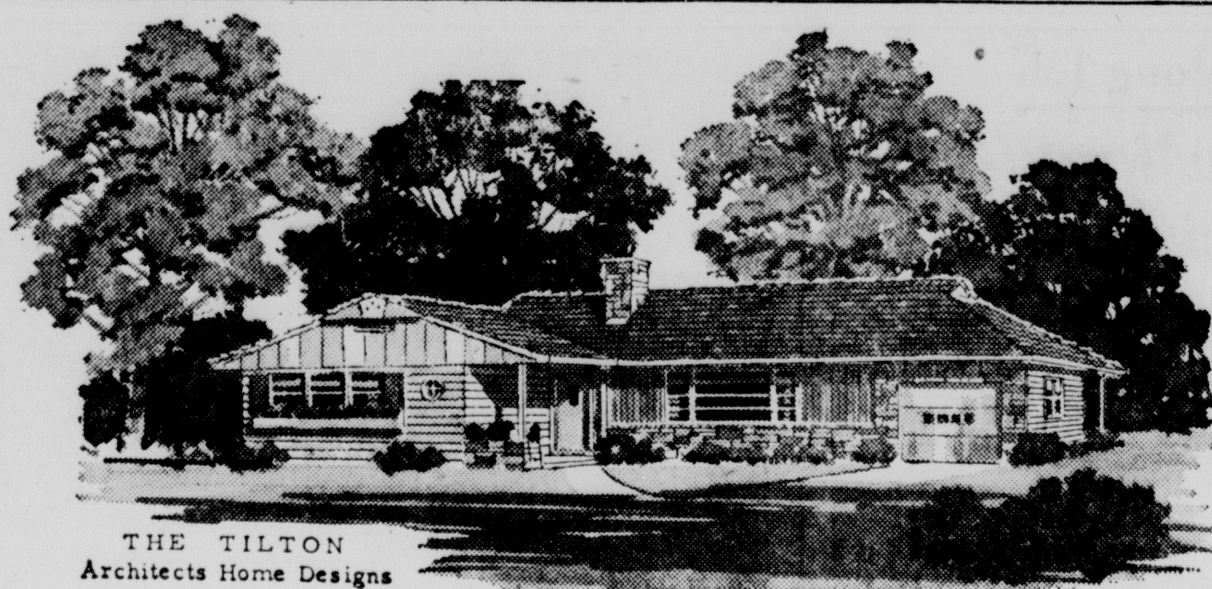

Blue a Favorite

The Bureau advises homeowners to choose interior colors that appeal to all members of the family. Blue, incidentally, is a favorite among men and older people.

The CRB learned of an unusual "color-story" concerning a woman who never felt well unless she was away from her home.

Her doctor investigated. Her room was a medley of various tones of purple.

So the doctor sent her away on a long trip and had her room redecorated in forsythia yellow. It's a well known medical fact that ever since she returned, she's been in splendid health.

Accessibility Is Key Word In Describing 'The Tilton'

By Associated Architects

A major test of the Ranch style dwelling is whether it provides all the facilities essential to modern living without crowding and without creating a sense of confusion as the individual members of the family go about their respective activities.

The secret, of course, is proper placement of the room in a sequence that at the same time creates a blending and still provides the right amount of separation.

A fine example of how this happy medium is reached is provided in today's Architects Home Designs' plan, called "The Tilton." The designers not only accomplished their purpose fully but added many delightful touches to enhance its natural charm.

Accessibility is the key word in the description of "The Tilton." Any room in the house is easily reachable from any given point without awkward detours and the main factor is a cleverly placed hall. This is not a dead-end, but a through passage that, while essentially a part of the sleeping area, still serves as the main traffic artery of the house, particularly taking a great burden off the living room.

Any homemaker can tell you this is a blessing, for the living room is where she lavishes her tender care. And in "The Tilton," her efforts will not go unrewarded.

To begin with, it is a spacious room, measuring 25 feet, nine inches in length and 13 feet, six inches in depth. The front wall is almost entirely windows, while one end is an unbroken wall that eliminates any problem of furniture placement.

The room also has a fine fireplace flanked by built-in combination of bookcase and log storage unit. And the flagstone hearth is a tasteful extension of the foyer flooring.

The dining room is an extension of the living room, but it is more than just an alcove. There is ample room for a full set of dining furniture and it is well-lighted by a pair of large rear windows. The kitchen is of good proportions with its equipment arranged to save the homemaker many steps.

The master bedroom is one of the finest features of this home. Situated at the front of the house, it has its own bath, a front window wall and a high, clerestory window on the side that permits full use of the wall beneath for furniture arrangement.

"The Tilton" boasts two porches, one combined with a stone planter that provides appealing sheltered access to the front entrance, and the other at the rear of the garage off the dining room is a fine place for outdoor relaxation in complete privacy.

These porches, plus the garage add 320 square feet to the 1,300 square footage of the living area. The cubage is 27,000 cubic feet with basement and 22,800 without basement. In the basement-less design, the stairway becomes a heater room.

Available With or Without Basement

Complete working blueprints show how to build the "Tilton" with wood, brick, stone, concrete or cinder blocks. Also included with the plans is the material list and specifications form which is needed for accurate estimates of costs and actual construction.

Fire Damage Is $10,000 at Church Home Dormitory

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — Fire burned out part of a girl's dormitory at the Methodist Church home in suburban Amherst Friday. No one was injured.

The one-story masonry building housed 15 girls and four proctors but only two of the girls and the proctors were there when the blaze broke out. All fled safely.

Firemen estimated damages at about $10,000. Cause of the fire was not determined immediately.

Two Suffocated

CLAYTON, N. Y. (AP) — A 74-year-old woman and her 13-year-old companion suffocated early today when an overheated stove pipe set their two story house afire.

Fire officials said the victims were Mrs. Agnes Knapp Carpenter and Sharon Sheley. They said the girl had been living with Mrs. Carpenter in this Jefferson County community since the woman's husband had been hospitalized some time ago.

'Box' Your Paint Before Using It

All paint should be thoroughly mixed to combine the solids and liquids. This mixing or "boxing" as painters call it, is a trick that calls for care.

Unless you use paint immediately after it is shaken by machine for 15 or 20 minutes at the paint store, use this method for proper "boxing".

Pour off almost all of the liquid contents of the can—about 9/10 of the contents—into a clean empty container. Stir well the material that is left in the can. Pour back a little of the liquid and keep on stirring. Continue pouring and mixing until all the paint is back in one container.

A safety check is to pour all of the paint again into the spare can to see how well you have scraped the bottom of the can. Then pour it back again and you are ready to paint.

Gas flames may discolor copper bottoms. You can remove the discoloration with salt and lemon juice or a commercial cleaner.

Circular Sanding

You'll find it easier to sand round furniture legs and dowels if you cut the sandpaper up into thin long strips and then, slipping it around the object, sand by pulling the strip back and forth, using both hands.

Hot or Cold

Algae, primitive water-loving plants, have been found growing in ice and snow above the Arctic Circle as well as in hot springs where the temperatures reach 200 degrees Fahrenheit.

Jacob's Pillow Dance Festival Schedule Planned

Lee, Mass.—For the 28th annual Jacob's Pillow Dance Festival, Ted Shawn has again announced an impressive galaxy of international dance celebrities and companies. The dance congress in the Berkshires, nine miles east of Lee, gets under way for a nine week, fifty-five performance season with a gala opening night set for Thursday, June 30th. The festival will continue through Saturday evening, August 27th.

The summer is typified by the kind of varied fare, ballet, modern and ethnic dance, which has become the hallmark of this internationally-known dance center. Artists assembling for the festivities will come from Denmark, Spain, India, Holland, Canada and various parts of this country. Negotiations are being completed in a few areas of the schedule and program details.

Readers who wish the complete season's schedule and pertinent information may address P.O. Box 87, Lee, Mass. The printed schedule will be available late in May.

Agatha Snyder Will Dance Here Sunday

As a special program for the Kingston Community Concerts Association workers' meeting Sunday afternoon, Miss Agatha Snyder will be presented in several ballet dances. The workers will be meeting for the final preparations in the one-week membership drive to be completed by noon, Saturday, May 14.

Everyone is invited to join the association for next year's concerts simply by paying the annual dues to any worker or at headquarters in the Governor Clinton Hotel next week 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. daily. Information may be obtained from Mrs. Bernard Forst or Mrs. Lloyd LeFever, membership chairman.

Miss Snyder, daughter of Mrs. John I. Snyder, 67 Maiden Lane, is assistant dance instructor in teaching of ballet, character and interpretive dance at the Adelphi School of Dance. She studied for six years with the late Alexis Kiosloff, graduate of Imperial Russian Ballet School and a ballet master at the Metropolitan Opera House in New York City for 25 years.

A senior at the Academy of St. Ursula, Miss Snyder plans to enter Georgetown Visitation Junior College, Georgetown, Washington, D. C. in the fall.

Her numbers for Sunday's programs include "The Bluebird" from Sleeping Beauty Ballet, music by Tchaikovsky; "Dance of the Clowns" from A Midsummer's Night Dream, music by Mendelssohn; and "The Animated Doll" from Coppelia, music by Delibes. Her accompaniment will be recorded music.

New Name Given For Area College

Marist College will be the new name for Marian College it was announced in Poughkeepsie by Brother Linus Richard, F.M.S., president. Official notice of the change in name was received today at the college from the Legal Bureau of the State Education Department.

Brother Linus stated that the basic reason for the change in name was occasioned by the wish of the Board of Trustees to have the college better identified with the Order which conducts the college. The Marist Brothers. The contribution of that group of over $2 million dollars towards the growth and expansion of the college in the Mid-Hudson area merits the recognition it will now receive by having the institution called Marist College.

Annual Show Is Scheduled at First Presbyterian

The Couples Club of First Presbyterian Church has scheduled two one-act plays and a variety show for May 10 and 11 at 8 p. m. in Ramsay Hall.

Departing from the usual format of the Minstrel Show, this year's program consists of an old fashioned, melodrama entitled "Curse You, Jack Dalton" by Wilbur Braum and a one-act comedy "If Men Played Cards as Women Do" written by George S. Kaufman and originally produced in Irving Berlin's Third Music Box Revue. Both plays are directed by Mrs. Elizabeth Askue, well known director and actress in Coach House Players.

Featured in the cast of "Curse You, Jack Dalton" are Roberta Gaddis, Vilma Burdette, Kay DuBois, Ann Berlew, Mel Suenram, John McNamara and Fred Stang.

The four men in the comedy

"If Men Played Cards as Women Do" are Chester Baltz Jr., James Berlew, Everett Howard and Alton Blackwell.

The variety show directed by Doris Stang and Marion Lane is highlighted by song and dance specialties with background provided by a chorus. The entire program is staffed by Couples Club members.

Tickets may be purchased from any club member or at the door.

Guest speaker at the Wednesday night meeting of Sisterhood of Agudas Achim will be Mrs. Elizabeth K. Isaacs, dean of students at Yeshiva University's Stern College for Women.

Another feature of the meeting to be held 8:30 p. m. at the vestry hall will be presentation of Mother's Day gifts to members. Refreshments will be served. Hostesses for the evening will be the Mmes. Louis Ellenbogen, Morris Berman, Jack Epstein and Harry Freedman.

Long active in orthodox Jewish circles, Mrs. Isaacs is honorary president of the women's branch of the Union of Orthodox Jewish Congregations of America and the Sisterhood Ohav Zedek, Yonkers.

She also served as chairman of the conference committee of the National Jewish Women's Organizations and is a member of the Kasruth Commission and the board of directors of the Union of Orthodox Congregations.

Mrs. Isaacs was appointed dean of students in 1958, three years after she assumed the post of director of student activities and student adviser at Stern College, America's first liberal arts college for women under Jewish sponsorship.

Musical Society Sets Meeting Here For Tuesday, 8:15

The annual open meeting of the Kingston Musical Society will be held on Tuesday, 8:15 p. m. in the Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Redeemer. Members are encouraged to bring guests to this meeting.

Mrs. Clarence Beeher, chairman of the program committee, has announced the following program: "Variations Symphoniques—Poco Allegro" by Franck with Mrs. Roland Tonnison and Mrs. William Rylance at the pianos.

Music of the four seasons of the year will include: Spring—"Country Gardens" by Granger presented by Mrs. Henry Millionig, Miss Ann Lynn Millionig, Mrs. Clarence Beeher, and Mrs. Robert MacKinnon; Summer—"Intermezzo—Op. 61. A Mid-Summer Night's Dream" by Mendelssohn, presented by Mrs. Willard Burke and Mrs. Bertrand Bishop; Fall—"El Pelele (The Straw Man)" by Granados, presented by Mrs. George Baron and Mrs. Lester Decker; Winter—"The Sleigh (A La Russe)" by Kountz, presented by Mrs. Harold Francis and Mrs. William Wood.

In addition to the music for the evening, Mrs. Dewese DeWitt will give a commentary on the Four Seasons using Art work loaned by Mrs. Roger H. Loughran, and the Choral Speaking Group under the direction of Miss Alberta Davis will offer several readings.

Hostesses for the evening are: Mrs. Henry Dunbar, Mrs. John Erickson, Mrs. Harry Kennedy, Mrs. Harry Legg, Mrs. Amos Newcombe, Mrs. Alfred Nussbaum, Mrs. Clyde Wonderly, and Mrs. William Wood.

Personality Courses Well Attended By Area Nurses, Staff

A unique course in personality development received plaudits at the Benedictine Hospital School of Nursing this week.

Taking advantage of the instruction were students of the school of nursing as well as nurses on the staff of the Ulster County Department of Health and staff members of St. Francis Hospital in Poughkeepsie.

Miss Anne Culkin, originator of the course, feels, and rightfully so, that the need for such a course is vital today.

"Girls today have to develop their personalities," Miss Culkin told The Freeman at a luncheon on Thursday. Through handling of information, Miss Culkin not only manages to inform her audience but to entertain as well. Her presentation is delightful and lively.

Listed in "Who's Who of American Women," Miss Culkin is a graduate of Marywood College. She has lectured to more than 100,000 women in 49 states.

Teachers' Dinner Set for May 16

Members of the dinner committee of P.T.A. at School No. 7 announced plans for the coming Teachers' Recognition Dinner to be held Monday, May 16 at the George Washington School, at 6:30 p. m.

The guests of honor will be the teaching staff of School No. 7. Principal speaker will be Dr. Earl Soper, superintendent of schools. Special guests, Mr. and Mrs. William Rylance, will conclude the evening with color slides of Switzerland.

A complete turkey dinner will be served family style by male members of the P.T.A. All parents of School 7 and friends are invited to attend this tribute which coincides with New York State Teacher Recognition Day.

Tickets may be obtained from Robert Ackert, Myron Schoonmaker, Ralph Gardner, Mrs. John Devine, Alderman John Heitzman or at the school from Mrs. Frieda Dingee, principal. Closing date for tickets is May 10.

Marletown Guild Hears Address on Religion in Africa

Africa was the topic at the meeting of the Women's Guild for Christian Service of the Marletown Reformed Church, Stone Ridge, Wednesday evening.

Guest speaker Samuel Ochola of Kenya, Africa, discussed Religion in Africa. He is planning to study medicine while in the United States.

Following his talk a social hour was held, giving members of the guild an opportunity to direct questions to Mr. Ochola. Worship services were held, using the Bible study handbook, The Hymnbook of the Ages. Mrs. Clifford Sheeley was in charge. A duet, The Lord Is My Shepherd was sung by Mrs. Charles Hasbrouck and Mrs. Ernest Schwarz, accompanied by Mrs. Rachel Clementz.

The meeting marked the close of study on Africa. Next topic for study will be Christian Colleges.

Truman 76 Sunday

Elizabeth Duffy and James E. Liddle Wed Before Nuptial Mass

Miss Elizabeth Duffy of 9 Davis Street, Rosendale, daughter of Mrs. Walter Duffy of Liverpool, England, and James Elliott Liddle of 218 Hurley Avenue, were united in marriage before a nuptial Mass at St. Peter's Church, Rosendale, 10 a. m., Saturday, April 30. The Rev. John Joseph Curry officiated.

Organist was James Sweeney and Mrs. James Sweeney, soloist, sang Ave Maria, Panis Angelicus, O Lord I Am Not Worthy and On This Day O Beautiful Mother. Given in marriage by her brother, Edward Duffy, the bride chose a gown of white organdy styled with a fitted bodice and a portrait collar. The waist length skirt was embroidered in a flower design in shades of pink and the waist was encircled by a matching cummerbund. She wore a princess crown with a circular tulle veil. She carried white cymbidium orchids on a lace covered prayer book.

Mrs. Margarette Duffy was honor attendant. She wore a champagne lace gown with matching hat and carried cymbidium orchids on a lace covered handbag.

Raymond Liddle of Walton was best man for his brother. A reception was held following the wedding at Leherb's Restaurant.

After a wedding trip to Washington, D. C., the couple will make their home at Fairview Avenue Extension.

The bride attended schools in Liverpool, England, and is employed at Montgomery Ward's store, Kingston.

Student Nurses Participate in Capping Exercises at Benedictine Hospital

A class of 23 student nurses were capped by Sister Callista, Director of the School of Nursing at Benedictine Hospital on Sunday, April 24. She was assisted by the senior and junior students.

The Rev. Peter Ellis, CSsR, professor of religion in the School of Nursing was the guest speaker.

In his address, Father Ellis said "...it is my privilege to congratulate and felicitate you on the successful termination of the first stage of your nurses training. Borrowing a metaphor from Modern day rocketry—the first and most difficult stage of the three stage rocket of professional nursing has been successfully fired and gotten you securely off the ground. The launching has been carefully watched. Both your parents and professors have been apprehensive during this period.

"In other professions people become hardened and impersonal and yet may be successful. When this happens to a nurse, she is a failure, she dies as a nurse. Perhaps knowledge makes a learned nurse; marks an efficient nurse, but only an understanding heart makes the healing nurse."

A reception was held after the ceremony in the Auditorium for relatives and friends of the students. The senior nursing students were the hostesses.

National Hospital Week Begins May 8; Benedictine Has Window Display Finished

Recognizing the importance of volunteer service, the American Hospital Association has selected the theme "Many Hands; Many Skills" in observance of National Hospital Week which begins May 8.

The Benedictine Hospital Auxiliary is taking part in the national observance with a window display at Grant's on Wall Street, depicting its various services. Among the services performed by the members of the Auxiliary are the operation of a sales cart; desk service; escort service; and junior volunteer service, all of which save many steps and time for hospital personnel and are helpful to patients and staff.

The sales cart, manned by two volunteers, each afternoon and evening, Monday through Saturday, and on Sunday afternoon, is taken to all floors of the hospital, and carries necessities required by patients in addition to magazines, candy, cigarettes and miscellaneous items, for the comfort of patients and convenience of visitors and staff.

The desk service volunteers perform such duties as delivering mail and messages, distributing flowers, directing visitors and generally lending a helping hand whenever needed. Volunteers are on duty at the reception desk from about two until four o'clock each week-day afternoon.

The newly inaugurated escort service has been well received by patients and hospital staff. Patients are greeted upon arrival by a volunteer and escorted to the X-ray department, and then accompanied to a room where the volunteer remains until the patient is settled and ready for hospital care.

The Junior Volunteers are an interested, enthusiastic group of high school girls, who perform

GREETED BY SOUTHERN OFFICIALS — Attending an official reception and dinner for Kingston High School choir and guests given by the city of Camden, S. C., while the group visited there were (l-r) Mayor E. C. Rhame of Camden; Franklin L. Hazard, Kingston assistant superintendent of schools; Clarence S. Rowland Sr., former Kingstonian who arranged for concert; Leonard Stine, choir director and South Carolina State Senator John C. West. The choir gave performances at Camden and Lancaster while in South Carolina.

Kingston Choir Gets Praise From Southern Reviewers on Concert

Kingston High School A Cappella Choir under the direction of Leonard Stine has returned triumphant from recent concerts in Camden and Lancaster, S. C. The 80-member group was invited to South Carolina for the second time in three years by C. S. Rowland, former Kingston resident who now has manufacturing interests in South Carolina and makes his home in Camden. Both performances were greeted with accolades from reviewers. In an editorial in the Lancaster (S. C.) News, the choir was classified as "superb." The writer called it "the finest musical event ever presented in Lancaster" and commended Leonard Stine for his direction. The choir was received in Lancaster homes where members

"made quick friends and good impressions." The choir received praise for its versatility of program which included everything from sacred to operatic music. The Camden Chronicle reviewer cited the quality and clarity of tone. "The blending of voices was perfect and the interpretation of the music itself was nothing short of wonderful," she said.

Arbor Day Held At West Hurley

An Arbor Day program was held at the West Hurley School of the Ontario Central School district Friday, April 29.
The program consisted of two parts; one indoors and the climax executed outside. A movie entitled "Little Smokey" was shown to the entire school followed by a talk concerning conservation of trees and wildlife by Donald Baines, principal.
At the conclusion of this phase of the program, the children were marched outside for a tree dedication ceremony by the Girl Scouts of Troop 79 under the leadership of Mrs. David Fox, assisted by Mrs. Phyllis Port. As the dogwood was being covered, the poem entitled "Trees" was first recited and then sung under the direction of Mrs. Harriette Nussbaum.

Miss New York State Scheduled for Local Appearance May 14

BONNIE JO MARQUIS

Bonnie Jo Marquis, Miss New York State 1960, will make a personal appearance tour of the various Kingston business areas on May 14. This will mark her first appearance in Kingston since being crowned Miss New York State at last year's pageant. A special welcoming motorcade has been planned with a scheduled appearance and ceremony in each business district of Kingston and will include the Albany Avenue-Town of Ulster and Port Ewen areas.
The Kingston Junior Chamber of Commerce in keeping with the spirit of cooperation with local merchants is planning to give away free admissions to the opening night of the pageant to the first 30 people greeting Miss New York State in each business district.
Plans are being formulated to list the specific times Miss New York State will appear in each business district. The schedule of appearances will be announced.
She will be accompanied on the tour by Mayor Edwin F. Radel, Albert Kurdt, manager of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce, Police Chief Robert F. Murphy and Fire Chief James M. Brett and local pageant directors.

Local Elks Lodge Field Day Events Slated for Today

Kingston Elks Lodge is sponsoring a field day which started at 10 o'clock this morning at Dietz Stadium.
Elks Lodge No. 550 will join with lodges throughout the nation in the 10th annual observance of Elks National Youth Day during this week. The local lodge will be one of more than 1,900 lodges of the Order of Elks to honor the country's junior citizens.
Announcing plans for his lodge's Youth Day program, Exalted Ruler, Kenneth Peters said that it would emphasize the achievements of the youth of Kingston "who have contributed so much to the life of our community and nation."
"Youth Day is something we do with youth, rather than for youth," Mr. Peters said. "During this week, we let our young people know they are an important part of our society; that they are our partners in the job of straightening and preserving our free heritage. We take this occasion every year to recognize our youth for their proven qualities of leadership, loyalty to country, and exemplary moral conduct; qualities which have enabled our nation to meet every crisis in the past and which, as exemplified in these promising citizens of tomorrow, will help us to confidently face the future."
The Field Day awards will be presented to the winners of each event and the highlight of the day will be the presentation of a bicycle to some lucky boy or girl. Free hot dogs and soda water will be served.

PRESENTS OF EQUAL VALUE

Dear Mrs. Post: We recently had our first baby. Friends of ours, a young married couple, gave the baby a quite expensive present. This couple are expecting a baby in several months and we would like to know if we are obliged to give their baby a present of similar value. We are both in the same financial bracket but I feel that a present of the same value is beyond our means at the present time. My wife thinks it would not be proper and very "cheap" to give anything less to their baby.
Answer: It is not necessary to give a present of equal value. You give their baby the nicest present you can afford. You might explain that it isn't as wonderful a present as they gave your baby but that it is the best you could afford at the present time.

When One Is Paged

Dear Mrs. Post: When staying in a hotel and one is paged, is the page boy supposed to be given a tip, and if so, how much?

Answer: Yes. A quarter is the usual tip.

A Present That Arrives Broken

Dear Mrs. Post: One of the wedding presents sent me, through the mail, was broken when it reached me. In my note of thanks, should I mention this fact, or do I simply thank her for the lovely dish? My sister thinks that if I write that it was broken, the person who sent it will feel obliged to replace it with something else.
Answer: It will be best not to say the gift was broken unless it came by insured mail or directly from the store in which it was bought. In this case, they would be responsible for its safe arrival and would surely replace it.

Mrs. Post offers readers leaflets on a variety of subjects concerning etiquette. If you would like to have her leaflet E-11, entitled "Do You Know Your ABC's in Manners?" (Quiz for girls and boys of high-school age), send 10 cents in coin to Dept. E.P., care of The Freeman, P.O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail.

Methodists Throw Out Old Divorce Law Restriction

By GEORGE W. CORNELL

Associated Press Religion Writer
DENVER, Colo. (AP) — The Methodist Church today was rid of its requirement that a divorced person must be adjudged innocent before he can be considered fit for remarriage.

The old rule specified that only the "innocent party" to a divorce could be remarried in the church.

In throwing out the restriction, the denomination's law-making general conference late Friday night substituted broader provisions, basing eligibility for remarriage on a person's improved attitudes and intentions.

The Rev. John W. McKelvey, of Lansdowne, Pa., protested the change as a departure from the "Scriptural and historical concepts of marriage and divorce" and from the "Gospel as we believe it."

However, the Rev. George L. Poor, of Chimaquum, Wash., insisted the revision was "raising the standards, not letting them down," and providing a way for "adequate help to a divorced person who needs it."

In approving the modification by an overwhelming vote, representatives of the 10-million-member church accepted a view pressed for years in Methodist circles that no minister — only God — could judge a divorced person's guilt or innocence.

As the Rev. Dr. Ben F. Lehmberg, of Colorado Springs, Colo., has put it, "I doubt if there is even a divorce where only one mate is responsible."

The new regulation calls for extensive premarital counseling.

It specifies that a divorced person may be remarried if "sufficiently aware of the factors leading to the failure of the previous marriage" and "is sincerely preparing to make the proposed marriage truly Christian."

Plans Are Announced For B'nai B'rith's Spring Conference

Hudson Valley Council of B'nai B'rith will hold its spring conference and installation at Broglio's, West Park, Sunday, May 15.

Will Address Men's Club of Old Dutch Church

JOHN FALLON

Executive secretary of the Empire State Federation of Teachers, John Fallon, will speak to the Men's Club of the Old Dutch Church at its May meeting Wednesday evening.

He will speak on the subject, "Why Teachers Need Organizing," explaining how teachers in New York State are handicapped under their present organizational set-up.

Is Former Teacher

Fallon, who holds a Master of Science Degree from Syracuse University, is a former local teacher. He was a member of the faculty of the University of California at Los Angeles for four years and a public school teacher for six years, three in California high schools and three at Kingston High School.

During part of his last year at KHS he was president of the Kingston Teachers Federation. On February 1 he was granted a leave of absence to become a staff member of a state teachers organization.

Fallon's duties as executive secretary of the Empire State Federation of Teachers involve the strengthening of existing locals and the establishment of new ones. This requires organizing and conducting meetings and preparing organizational material.

During the legislative session in Albany the executive secretary works with the state federation's legislative representative on contacting legislators for support of federal bills.

Ladies Night Set

Ladies Night will be observed at the meeting. Husbands are invited to bring their wives. Reservations should be made with Robert A. MacKinnon or with the church office. The dinner will begin at 6:30 p. m. William D. Markle is president of the club. Clair Sheaffer chairman of the program committee.

Picketing Over Of Egypt Ship

NEW YORK (AP) — Picketing of an Egyptian freighter in New York Harbor was at an end today, along with a growing boycott that the Arab world had summoned up to counter it in the Middle East.

Picketing of the ship Cleopatra stopped Friday after the State Department promised it would try new steps to halt Arab blacklisting of American ships dealing with Israel.

The Seafarers International Union withdrew its single picket from the East River where the Cleopatra had been stranded with its cargo since April. The picket line was seldom larger, but enough to keep out cargo handlers who refused to cross it.

Arab counterpicketing started a week ago Friday.

The settlement was the climax of an unusual experiment in international bargaining by picket line. But the union warned that its part was not over.

Seafarers President Paul Hall told the State Department that picketing will be resumed unless the State Department makes good its pledge to investigate union complaints and step up efforts to protect American ships and sailors from Arab discrimination. The union maintains that blacklisting has cost an increasing number of American seamen their jobs. It also charges that some American sailors have been mistreated in Arab ports.

Loyalty Day Parade Scheduled Tomorrow

Forty units and 16 bands, including the U. S. Military Academy Band, will participate in a Loyalty Day parade at Poughkeepsie Sunday afternoon, weather permitting.

The parade was originally scheduled for last Sunday, but rain forced a postponement. Joseph L. Sauter, parade chairman, said if it rains tomorrow the parade will be canceled.

The parade is scheduled to start promptly at 2:30 p. m., at Church and South Cherry Street, and will move north to Main Street, thence west in Main Street, and south on Market Street to Riverview Field.

Hearing on Bid Of Gas Company Ends in Ottawa

OTTAWA (AP) — A three-day hearing by the Ontario Energy Board on the bid of a Canadian gas company to enter the Upstate New York market ended on a note of reconciliation.

Niagara Gas Transmission Co., the Canadian company, accused the Niagara Mohawk Power Corp. of Syracuse, N. Y., Friday of "enormous" opposition to the Canadian bid because of "hurt pride that an Ontario company dared to come into its backyard."

Niagara Mohawk suggested that the Canadian firm wanted to enter the New York market to expand.

Under its proposal, Niagara Gas Transmission would deliver gas to the St. Lawrence Gas Co. for distribution in the Ogdensburg-Massena area. The U. S. Federal Power Commission has approved the proposal and rejected Niagara Mohawk's bid to serve the same area.

Niagara Gas Transmission Co. and St. Lawrence Gas Co. are subsidiary companies of Consumers' Gas Co. of Toronto.

The hearing is on a reapplication by Niagara Gas for a license to export 73½ billion cubic feet of natural gas over a 20-year period. The Energy Board rejected the company's original application on the ground that it was not going to charge enough for its deliveries and had failed to show that it could meet increased market demands after 1963.

The reapplication was submitted after the U. S. Federal Power Commission approved the proposal.

Flies More Difficult

ITHACA, N.Y. (AP)—Scientists predict a difficult battle against house flies this year.

Even the latest insecticide, Lindane, no longer is effective, scientists at the State College of Agriculture at Cornell University report.

Flies previously have developed resistance to Diazinon and DDT.

1,100 Acres Are Left Charred by Blaze in State

SWAIN, N. Y. (AP)—A forest fire which engulfed more than 1,000 acres of woodland in Southwestern New York was apparently under control today, ringed by a line of bulldozed ditches.

More than 250 volunteers, most of them firemen from neighboring communities, battled the flames through the day Friday as they swept northeastward toward the nearby Livingston County line.

The fire was checked at a mile-long ditch line shortly before sundown, according to Edwin Olmstead, Allegany County fire coordinator.

Behind it were about 1,100 acres of charred timber part of it on the Rattlesnake Hill State Game Preserve. The area is located in the northeastern tip of Allegany County, about 50 miles south of Rochester.

Rangers said the fire posed no immediate threat to buildings or nearby communities, but expressed fear that a fresh onslaught of high winds would fan it out of control again.

The blaze had been brought under control in a 60-acre area Thursday night but Friday's winds pushed it through firebreaks.

Gang Ambush Is Seen in Slaying

NEW YORK (AP) — One man was slain and another wounded in the Greenpoint section of Brooklyn Friday night in what appeared to be a gangland ambush. Shot twice in the head was Peter Lekos, 48, whom police said has an arrest record dating back to 1942.

The driver of the car, identified as Vincent Corbett, 43, was shot in the cheek. His condition was described as serious at a hospital. The two men were found in the front seat of the car, the engine still running and the headlights on.

A maroon and white auto was seen speeding from the scene by two students of the Brooklyn Automotive Trade school. The students said they were sitting in a car talking when they heard shots and saw the flashy sedan race away.

Colonial Tire Leads Bowlero Tournament

Colonial Tire of the Hi-Lo League grabbed the lead as the first squads entered in the Sangi Bowlero fired the opening salvo last night. The leaders had a gross of 3056 pins as Fred DiBella shot a nifty 648 series from his anchor slot.

Action will continue tonight and tomorrow and will conclude next weekend with squads slated to roll on Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights. A total of 52 teams are shooting for the gross prize of $300 and first high net of $150.

Aiding DiBella, who had games of 201-265-182 for his total, were Joe Apa (562), Fred Bayona (445), Ned Simrany (500) and Ken Boughton (496).

In second spot after the first night of firing was Bull Market with 2296 pins. Jerry Kaplan walloped a brilliant 659 series with games of 220-225 and 214.

Medals Awarded At Charter Night Of Troop No. 3

Star Scout John Cranston was the recipient of the gold honor medal and First Class Scout Thomas Policano received the silver medal for good scouting and service to the troop at a recent scout meeting.

Scout Troop 3 and Cub Pack 3, sponsored by the Holy Name Society of St. Joseph's Church, assembled at the school hall last Sunday evening and marched to the church where an investiture service, conducted by the Rev. William E. Williams, scout chaplain, was held for the Cubs and Scouts.

At the conclusion of the church ceremony the congregation proceeded to the school auditorium for the recognition ceremonies and presentation of the charters.

The evening's events were opened with an invocation by Father Williams and the pledge of allegiance to the flag by the scouts and guests.

Nicholas Reis Jr., president of the Holy Name Society, welcomed the scouts and scouters and parents. William H. Sill, assistant district commissioner representing Rip Van Winkle Council, presented the charters to John Machione, Institutional representative.

William Winslow, chairman of the Cub Pack Committee, introduced the Den Mothers of the Cub Pack and presented pins to Mrs. Francis Arguevicz, Mrs. John Howard, Mrs. Thomas Gallagher, Mrs. James Rapp, Mrs. Frank Pivovarski, Mrs. Anthony Rosinski, Mrs. Clarence Wilber and Mrs. Thomas McGowan.

Harold Anderson, Francis Barry, John Gallagher, Thomas Gallagher, Daniel Heitzman, Lewis Helmbold, Michael Hudela, William P. Kearney, Anthony Martino, Richard Mino, Urban Pivovarski, Michael Policano, Vincent Rapp, William Rich, Michael Rosinski, Christopher Seche, Robert Sicker, Robert Wilber, Harry Wyands, William Hughes and Kevin Quilty. Bronislaw Hudela presented John Gallagher, Thomas McGowan and William Rich with Bear pins, and Francis Arguevicz and John Gallagher, and assistant den mother stripes to William Kearney and Vincent Rapp. Service stars were given out by Carl Thurn, cubmaster.

Following the Cub activities Joseph Policano introduced troop committee members with a special welcome to a new member, Rodney Williams. Mothers' pins signifying the ranks their sons have earned during the past year were presented by committee members Edward Gardner, Frank Aidala, Carl Guerri, Frank Reis and William Sill as follows:

Tenderfoot pins: Alfred Bridgely, Raymond Buboltz, John Denter, Alan Deyo, Carl Guerri.

Lawyer's Son Hurt, Was Struck by Car

Thomas Saccaman, 5-year-old son of Attorney and Mrs. Thomas F. Saccaman, of 75 O'Neil Street, was injured at 7:15 p. m. Friday when struck by an automobile on Tremper Avenue near O'Neil Street, according to a report of Patrolman Joseph Kivlan.

The boy was taken to Kingston Hospital by the driver of the car involved in the accident, Theodore Lemister, 66, of 34 Elmendorf Street, police said. The injured child was treated for lacerations of the face and he was admitted for X-ray examination.

Lemister told police he was driving north on Tremper Avenue when the boy darted from the west side of the avenue into the path of his car, which struck the child and knocked him to the pavement.

Negroes to Register

BROWNSVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Haywood County Negroes have been advised they can begin registering May 16 to vote for the first time since Reconstruction days.

The County Election Commission, installed recently after the county went for months without one, placed a legal notice to that effect in the States-Graphic, a weekly newspaper here.

Woman Doctor Loses Life in House Blaze

LEWISTON, N. Y. (AP)—Dr. Florence A. Mech, 76, perished today in a fire that swept the bedroom of her home (at 215 Fort Gray Drive). Dr. Mech was retired. Niagara County deputy sheriffs said the fire was caused by "careless use of smoking materials." The damage was estimated at $1,500.
